

Tante Tini

text Iris Görling

Once upon a time there was a little girl called Odette, she had the most beautiful shoes that you could possibly imagine, but the shoes were not only beautiful, they also possessed a special magic power, because long after they had worn out and the soles had holes in them, simply through their likeness they could cast a spell over people.

And so it came to pass that one day, not so very long ago, Tante Tini was leafing through an old photo album and came across little Odette's shoes. They were the cutest children's shoes that she had ever seen and so she decided – luckily for us all – to revive the shoes with the lovely sounding name of Odette.

Although the shoe may seem familiar to you, it is a brand new model from the Tante Tini collection and we are certain that today, combined with white tights or even with thick hand knitted socks, it will look just as enchanting as in the past with Odette.
