

press release spring/summer 2015

anne-claire petit • accessoires •

Dutch designer Anne-Claire Petit shows with her new spring/ summer collection how her sources of inspiration – flora, fauna and travels – never let her down. A clear color scheme, a certain roundness and her sense of optimism, just like the fondness of the traditional handicraft technique of crochet, remain a trustworthy constant.

An apple a day

New items for the little ones, including fruity music boxes and rattles, trigger all senses in a healthy way. The apple music box is available in the colors nature and red (tune: Brahms's lullaby). The pear and apple rattle both have a bell inside.

Choose an outfit

New rabbit Rosa has a tiny wardrobe of 4 different colorful knitted tops to complement a room or her owners outfit.

Camera with beep

Household objects from bygone often recur as a source of inspiration for Anne-Claire. This season she picked the classic camera to show how fast time flies. Overcome by a slight sense of nostalgia we realize that it won't be long before today's youngsters are clueless about the purpose of this ancient apparatus.
