Dsquared2 Junior Collection Fall Winter 2015-16

Little rule-breakers, punk rockers and style makers unite in Dsquared2's Kids Fall/Winter 2015-16 collection. Channeling bold themes from key Dsquared2's men's and women's ready to wear collections, the confident lineup is made for braving winter's elements in style.

A collegiate meets punk inspiration creates strikingly tailored pieces. Girls' pieces have a distinct 60s and 80s attitude in pleated mini skirts, patent-trimmed capes, cocoon style coat dresses, and gray flannel stirrup ski style pants—worn with a white shirt printed with braces.

Retro style ski pants, cut from stretch tech fabric with tonal stitching (which can be worn on the slopes) are ready for little guys' action-packed days, worn with a blazer constructed with a sporty hooded nylon jacket. Tartan, a Dsquared2 signature, turns up on both the boys and girls lineups as collars on shirts, in dresses, shorts and as jacquard wool knits.

Rock stars in training need legendary ensembles: mini leather studded bomber jackets and a white tuxedo shirt with electric guitar motifs on the pockets fit the bill. She wears drop waist fuchsia jersey dresses and optic white tech fabric pants.

Outerwear includes brightly colored down nylon jackets and vests, oversized parkas, jackets melding tailoring and sporty looks for the boys and egg shaped wool coats for the girls.

Party dressing is edgy and elegant. Red and black taffeta dresses trimmed with ruffles, refined wool tuxedos for mini heartbreaker.

Contemporary everyday dressing effortlessly mixes and matches core collection pieces. A lineup of T-shirts and sweats are printed with eye-catching graphics—cartoon characters, vintage skis—and cut in modern silhouettes, drop crotch pants and boxy tops. Denim is made for urban adventures: biker style pant jeans with reinforced seams, black studded jeans, denim shirts and jeans that reveal a boxer waistband.

Dsquared2 kids use their fashion instinct to pull together a look with cool accessories. Designed for playing outdoors over rough ground, rubber soled boots are lined with shearling and constructed with mixed materials: denim, check and suede with hiking style laces. The collection's red check is striking on snow boots, double strap ballerinas, and hightops. Studs and buckles embellish ankle boots for tough little tomboys. For girls who love dressing up, there's gold mirror finish and glittered lace-ups, and slippers topped with jewels. Just like those worn by dad, he has a wardrobe of sneakers. Lowtops are trimmed with retro contrast stripes, and sleek hightops include monochrome designs in black or mirrored silver.
